Professional Expense Allowance Reimbursement Program
2018-2019

NOTE Changes:

- o The DATE on your receipts must be within the current or the preceding fiscal year, even if you are using unused allowance carried forward from years prior to these. This may be one drawback if you have not claimed for two years: please plan accordingly to ensure your receipts will be valid.
- o ALSO, please note guidelines regarding personal-use portions of certain expenses in the Personal-use Portion below.

Please read ALL the information below before completing your Professional Expense Allowance (PEA) claim.

Each member of faculty may submit a claim up to two times during the budget year. One claim may be submitted during the month of October and the second claim in March to ensure year-end cut off. Members are encouraged to submit claims as soon as their receipts total the yearly maximum. Annual maxima for 2018-2019 as set out in the Collective Agreement are:

Professional expense allowances shall be made available to Members annually, as follows:

	2016/2017	2017/2018	2018/2019
Faculty Members (not Term Adjuncts)	$1,804	$1,831	$1,863
Term Adjuncts per 0.5 credit course or equivalent	$254	$261	$266

If a member incurs less than the maximum in any year, the balance can be carried forward for two years. Members who are on reduced appointment or leave are entitled to full reimbursement as set out above.

PLEASE NOTE: To comply with Canada Revenue Agency regulations, all material included for professional expense reimbursement remains the property of Queen's University.

Reimbursement of Expenses

Allowable expenses are those incurred

- a. by the faculty member personally (no reimbursement of a university account will be reimbursed from PEA). The funds are designated strictly for use by the individual faculty member for his/her own professional development,
- b. during employment at Queen's, and
- c. within the current or the preceding budget year (i.e., receipts dated after May 1, 2018).

University accounts cannot be reimbursed from Professional Expenses because such payment does not meet the requirement of reimbursing the Member for personal expenses. This also violates the University purchasing policy (Item 14. The University purchasing system may not be used for personal purchases).

Research accounts cannot be reimbursed from Professional Expenses. Provincial tax law requires all items charged to Research Accounts to be used 95% for research. The PEA was established to assist faculty in their professional development and enhance their teaching, and cannot therefore be interpreted as 95% research-related.

The Professional Expense Allowance normally shall be used only to defray the following professional expenses:

1. Membership fees for professional and/or learned societies related to the faculty member's discipline;

Required Documentation: preferably a receipt from the society. However, it is recognized that most societies will not provide receipts, so you must provide alternate documentation. You must submit a photocopy made of the completed renewal notice before it was returned to the society AND proof of payment, such as a credit card statement showing that item; or, if renewing on-line, you must print the on-line confirmation page.

2. The purchase of books related to the faculty member's discipline;

Required Documentation: an original itemized store receipt, listing books purchased and HST amount.

3. Subscriptions to professional and/or learned journals;

Required Documentation: see #1 Membership fees (above)

4. Registration fees for scholarly conferences;

Required Documentation: a receipt issued by the host body. IF all you are claiming is the registration itself, you do not need to complete a travel claim form as well. If claiming for travel to the conference, list the registration fee under "Miscellaneous" on the travel claim form.

5. Travel including transportation, food and accommodation (subject to University policies) to attend relevant scholarly conferences/seminars or to visit other universities or research sites to conduct research and scholarly work.

Required Documentation: You must complete a university travel form, found online at:

<http://www.queensu.ca/financialservices/forms>

Note: University policies regarding reimbursement of travel have changed; detailed information can be found here:

<http://www.queensu.ca/financialservices/policies-procedures>

See Travel (below) for other restrictions on travel claims against PEA.

6. Page and reprint charges or costs incurred in the preparation and completion of scholarly manuscripts;

Required Documentation: original receipt from copy store; original receipt for cost of submission to journal.

7. Instructional and research materials such as software, equipment, computing supplies and/or stationary supplies [see Definitions for restrictions on equipment purchases;] [See Carry forward of Expense Receipts Exception.]

Required Documentation: original itemized store receipt.

In cases where a computer or related equipment will be claimed over several years, the original invoice must be submitted each year. The department office sends a memo asking Financial Services to return the original receipt to the faculty member, after stamping it to indicate how much value has been claimed in each fiscal year. The faculty member must re-submit the same stamped receipt with the next year's claim in order to be reimbursed for the balance of value.

Even if your computer is purchased through payroll deduction, you must still submit an original receipt showing the entire cost of the purchase, and follow the same procedure outlined above.

8. Professional/academic development or upgrading;

Required Documentation: receipt for courses taken.

9. Research assistance.

Required Documentation: original receipts for internet service or dedicated computer telephone line, photocopying and library charges or similar expenses.

Important Note: Payments made by faculty members to individuals for research or other services cannot be reimbursed from Professional Expenses. (Such payments would have to be treated as salary to the researcher and cannot be made from reimbursement-only accounts.)

Expenses whose relevance to professional duties is not obvious must be clearly explained.

Carry forward of Unused Allowance

Under the terms of the Collective Agreement, section 36.3.4, "If a Member incurs less than the maximum [professional expense allowance] in any year, the balance can be carried forward for two (2) years."

The Department Office tracks the amount of any unused PEA carried forward and adds it to the amount allowed for the current year. There is no carry forward of allowance available to Sessional Adjuncts.

Use only the current year's form even if you are utilizing carried forward maximums. Simply claim to the maximum of the current year combined with unused amounts carried forward and ensure that your receipts all fall within the two-year window specified on the current year's form.

Carry forward of Expense Receipts - (Does not apply to Clinical Faculty)

Expenses are normally not applied against more than one year's allowance. Exception is made for large purchases such as a computer.

When purchasing a computer or similar item greater in value than the member's annual allowance, the member submits the original receipt. When it is processed, Financial Services stamps it, indicating the amount of value reimbursed, and returns the receipt to the member. The member then re-submits the receipt the following year with his/her claim form, in order to be reimbursed for the balance of the value.

Dates and Deadlines

All forms must be signed by the Department Head and be posted to the General Ledger NO LATER THAN MONDAY, OCTOBER 15, 2018 for the first claim AND MONDAY MARCH 25, 2019 for the second claim so that the budget year can be closed out in a timely fashion.

All receipts submitted for a 2018-2019 claim must be dated May 1, 2018 or later. Unacceptable receipts will be returned.

Claims submitted by retiring faculty must contain only receipts dated prior to the date of retirement. It will be appreciated if they submit their claim as soon after their retirement date as possible.

Definitions

1. According to Financial Services, for purposes of HST, a book is defined as: "The traditional definition plus:
 - * bound copies of photocopies - "bound" meaning that there are two or more staples in the spine;
 - * a magazine or periodical with less than 5% advertising, which is acquired by subscription;
 - * bound collections of magazines or periodicals, as long as they contain less than 5% advertising;
 - * audio tapes of books."

2. "Books and Journals" do not include

- * video tapes, CD ROMs, microfilm and similar methods of providing printed text;
- * journals delivered by on-line subscription (e-mail);
- * stationary items such as Daytimers, magazines and newspapers, even when purchased at a bookstore;
- * subscriptions to newspapers, for example the Globe & Mail;
- * subscriptions to general circulation magazines -- for example, PC World, Macleans, Popular Science or Business Week -- because of the amount of advertising in the magazine;
- * any item subject to provincial sales tax.

These materials must be included among "Supplies".

1. "Equipment" may include a computer and peripherals such as printer, scanner, etc. It is acceptable for these items to be located in an office within the member's home. It is NOT acceptable for any other items reimbursed from the PEA to be located other than on Queen's campus, e.g. an office chair or bookcase MUST be located in the member's Queen's office.

Receipts in Foreign Currency

For expenses in foreign currency, please provide the amount in Canadian dollars - e.g., note the amount from your credit card statement and write it on the original receipt. If the exchange rate is shown, please indicate that as well. If the foreign expense includes a charge for HST -- for instance, when ordering a subscription paid in US$ where HST is charged by the American publisher -- the HST amount should be converted to Can$ at the same rate. If your expenditure was not charged to a credit card and you need to determine the rate, you can use the Currency Converter provided at the Financial Services website:

http://www.queensu.ca/financialservices/deposits#Exchange_Rate

New Faculty Members

Receipts submitted by new faculty members should be dated within the same May-April annual cycle as their start date at Queen's.

Members hired for a limited time period - e.g. a two-year non-renewable appointment - should also see the note below regarding issuing a T4 for reimbursement of equipment purchases.

Retiring Faculty and Departing Faculty

Claims submitted by retiring faculty must contain only receipts dated prior to the date of retirement. It will be appreciated if they submit their claim as soon after their retirement date as possible.

PLEASE NOTE: T4 REPORTING

Faculty members who wish to use PEA to purchase a computer within approximately 3 years of retirement should be aware that if someone is reimbursed by the University for a piece of equipment and then retire before the equipment's useful life ends, they may be T4'd upon their retirement for some portion of the equipment's value. The "useful life" of a computer is considered to be approximately 3 years; other pieces of equipment such as printers may have a longer lifespan.

New members hired for specified time periods - for example, a two-year non-renewable appointment - will be subject to the same regulations, and will receive a T4 for the undepreciated value of equipment for which they were reimbursed, if they take the equipment with them when leaving the university.

Personal-use Portion

Queen's University reimbursements of professional expenditures are not to include personal-use portions. There are several examples of expenditures (e.g. internet connections) that may have both educational/professional elements as well as personal-use elements. The Faculty of Health Sciences expects that Members will reduce their professional expense reimbursement claims by any estimated personal-use portions, prior to requesting reimbursement.

In the event that you request reimbursement for an expenditure of the nature described above, you must include a written statement on each relevant invoice or source document, such as “personal use portion is x% (or $x) so please reimburse for the difference” and sign and date beneath that statement, even if ‘x’ is considered to be zero. Such requests without this declaration will not be processed. To help facilitate timely processing of such claims, please pro-actively attend to this declaration requirement.

Travel

If you have received a Travel Advance, you cannot claim the cost of this travel as a Professional Expense Reimbursement. The scenarios below assume that you have not received a travel advance. In all cases, you must submit a travel form as well as your PEA claim form.

* If you are splitting the cost of conference travel between PEA and a grant received through Research Services, you must point this out when submitting your PEA claim. You should submit a copy of the letter from Research Services notifying you of your grant. Specify the amount to be charged against your research grant and the amount for PEA.

* If you are charging part of the travel expense against a departmental account, you must show that account code on the travel form and that line must be signed by a person authorized to sign against that account, before you submit it with your PEA claim.
