INTRODUCTION TO DIGITAL TEACHING AND LEARNING RESOURCES

Project Purpose

Guided by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada's (TRC) Calls to Action on healthcare education and drawing on notions of cultural safety, decolonization, Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Indigeneity (EDII), the aim of this project was to create an interactive digital collection that translates the TRC's Calls to Action into strategies that can be implemented in meaningful, accessible, practical, and culturally appropriate ways within healthcare education and practice. The educational resource is designed for healthcare learners to provide them with strategies for applying the content in their educational study and future healthcare practice.

Project Goals

1. Close the education gap between the (TRC)'s Calls to Action and healthcare education and practice.
2. Improve the healthcare quality for Indigenous peoples.
3. Apply the TRC's Calls to Action that relate to postsecondary healthcare education and practice for healthcare learners
 - Education: 10 i, ii, iii, iv, vii;
 - Health: 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24; and
 - Education for Reconciliation 62 ii, 63 ii, iii, iv.
4. Develop a digital educational collection to support the application of the TRC's Calls to Action into practice.
5. Ensure sustainability by implementing a community-led and informed project.

Project Themes

1. Historical Perspectives of Indigenous Peoples in Canada and Implications for Health Outcomes
2. Biases, Racism, and Discrimination in Healthcare
3. Indigenous Ways of Knowing and Healthcare
4. Healthcare Rights
5. Healthcare Services
6. Culturally Safe Healthcare
7. Intersections between Education and Healthcare

Project Digital Content Output

1. Seven online modules that address each of the seven project themes
2. Supplementary digital resources
3. Six pieces of artwork that address represent one or more of the seven project themes created by Indigenous artists
4. Interview video clips of individuals recounting and addressing one or more of the seven project themes.

ONLINE MODULES

Module 1: Historical Perspectives of Indigenous Peoples in Canada and Implications for Health Outcomes

Theme	Historical Perspectives of Indigenous Peoples in Canada and Implications for Health Outcomes
URL	https://healthsci.queensu.ca/sites/opdes/files/modules/eCampus-TRC-CTA/perspectives-and-implications-for-health-outcomes
Overall Content	1. Healthcare disparities between Indigenous Peoples and non-Indigenous Canadians. 2. How laws and treaties have contributed to health determinants for Indigenous Peoples in Canada 3. Examples of the intergenerational impacts of the injustices against Indigenous Peoples 4. Ways to address and eliminate the disparities existing in Canadian healthcare, including self-government and activism.
Learning Objectives	By the end of this module, learners will be able to: • Describe the connection between historical and current government policies and actions toward Indigenous Peoples (including but not limited to colonization, residential schools, treaties, and land claims) and the resulting intergenerational health outcomes.

Module 2: Biases, Racism, and Discrimination in Healthcare

Theme	Biases, Racism, and Discrimination in Healthcare
URL	https://healthsci.queensu.ca/sites/opdes/files/modules/eCampus-TRC-CTA/biases-racism-and-discrimination-in-healthcare/
Overall Content	1. Ways that different manifestations of racism, biases, and discrimination impact the lives and health of Indigenous Peoples 2. Tools, understandings, and practical strategies to decolonize healthcare practices
Learning Objectives	By the end of this module, learners will be able to: • Identify implications of unconscious bias and stereotyping in cross-cultural interactions. • bullet Assess and address the role of racism (interpersonal, systemic, and epistemic) in differential access to healthcare.

Module 3: Indigenous Ways of Knowing and Healthcare

Theme	Indigenous Ways of Knowing and Healthcare
URL	https://healthsci.queensu.ca/sites/opdes/files/modules/eCampus-TRC-CTA/indigenous-ways-of-knowing-and-healthcare
Overall Content	1. The importance of language, culture, and land in Indigenous Peoples' health and well-being 2. Traditional medicine and healing practices, and how these can be integrated with Western medicine practices
Learning Objectives	By the end of this module, learners will be able to: • Describe languages that are part of your local Indigenous communities, including how they surface within education and how they are referenced. • Articulate the connection between language and land. Explain the purpose of an Aboriginal Healing Centre. Examine how Indigenous health centres are defined across the country. • Describe the role and importance of an Elder, Knowledge Keeper, and/or Indigenous Rights Holder. • Recognize what Indigenous knowledge means for people in the healthcare field.

Module 4: Healthcare Rights

Theme	Healthcare Rights
URL	https://healthsci.queensu.ca/sites/opdes/files/modules/eCampus-TRC-CTA/healthcare-rights
Overall Content	1. The rights of Indigenous Peoples and how these rights pertain to healthcare 2. Strategies to address disparities and implement these rights in a healthcare context
Learning Objectives	By the end of this module, learners will be able to: • Describe the four key themes of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (UNDRIP) and how they link to health outcomes. • Recognize and implement the healthcare rights of Indigenous Peoples as identified in international law, constitutional law, and under the Treaties. • Understand Indigenous Peoples' right to traditional medicines, health practices, and the right to access all social and health services without discrimination.

Module 5: Healthcare Services

Theme	Healthcare Services
URL	https://healthsci.queensu.ca/sites/opdes/files/modules/eCampus-TRC-CTA/healthcare-services
Overall Content	1. Historical and modern-day barriers, disparities, and risks associated with access to health services 2. The effects of laws, acts, and policies in healthcare 3. The non-insured health services and benefits (NIHB) program 4. Strategies to promote positive change for Indigenous healthcare.
Learning Objectives	By the end of this module, learners will be able to: • Identify the differences in health needs and provision of healthcare. • Describe the various health services that are delivered to Indigenous Peoples and how multi-jurisdictional healthcare (federal, provincial, regional) can increase the risk of critical incidents, adverse events, medication errors, administrative barriers, and/or interruptions in the continuity of care. • Describe the differences in provincial healthcare, federal healthcare, and community organizations that deliver healthcare on and off reserves . • Articulate the diversity of access to federal NIHB for First Nations (Status and non-Status), Métis, and Inuit.

Module 6: Culturally Safe Healthcare

Theme	Culturally Safe Healthcare
URL	https://healthsci.queensu.ca/sites/opdes/files/modules/eCampus-TRC-CTA/culturally-safe-healthcare-and-education
Overall Content	1. Culturally safe healthcare and what this means for Indigenous Peoples in Canada 2. Barriers to accessing healthcare professional education 3. Continuum of care that goes from cultural awareness to cultural safety
Learning Objectives	By the end of this module, learners will be able to, • Describe respectful discussion and collaboration regarding the use of traditional health practices. • Identify barriers to pathways to enter the field as healthcare professionals. • Create safe clinical and learning environments through cultural training, safety, humility, trauma- and violence-informed care, and anti-racist healthcare practices.

Module 7: Intersections between Education and Healthcare

Theme	Intersections between Education and Healthcare
URL	https://healthsci.queensu.ca/sites/opdes/files/modules/eCampus-TRC-CTA/intersections-between-education-and-healthcare
Overall Content	1. Funding gaps for Indigenous programs and services, including elementary, secondary, and post-secondary

	2. How caps on education funding have created greater gaps over time 3. False beliefs surrounding Indigenous students' education funding
Learning Objectives	By the end of this module, learners will be able to: • Describe the difference between federal and provincial education (significant funding gap). • Investigate and assess the insufficient funding challenges for Indigenous students (stereotypes in this area need to be addressed). • Assess educational attainment levels and outcomes (implications pathway is longer and more varied).
